COURTER KOBERT
& COHEN PC

Senior partner Lawrence Cohen believes what sets Courter Kobert & Cohen apart from the rest is its unique location. Situated amid the small towns of western New Jersey, this mid-size firm is nevertheless the largest in the region. "We bring large law firm capabilities to an area of the state which is not normally served by the larger firms," Cohen says.

AREAS OF PRACTICE

Courter Kobert & Cohen offers a full range of legal services in the areas of zoning, planning and land use, litigation, insurance law, health and hospital care and government relations.

Co-founder Jim Courter is a former U.S. congressman, and was a ranking member of the House Armed Services Committee. The Republican candidate for governor of New Jersey in 1989, Courter was appointed Chairman of Defense Base Closure and Realignment Commission in 1991. Partner Murray E. Bevan has served as chief of staff to former Governor Christine Todd Whitman, and Richard A. Giuditta is a councilman and former council president in West Orange.

SUPER LAWYERS

Lawrence P. Cohen, a Super Lawyer in the field of business litigation, has been involved in a myriad of commercial litigation, both in the state and federal courts. Cohen is an active practitioner in the field of municipal law and has been a municipal attorney for a number of municipalities. For his achievements as a trial lawyer, the New Jersey Supreme Court designated Cohen a certified civil trial attorney.

WE ARE COMMITTED TO EXCELLENCE IN EVERY FACET OF OUR PRACTICE.

Super Lawyer Anthony J. Zarillo Jr. chairs the firm's insurance practice group. Zarillo has extensive experience representing insurance companies in connection with first- and third-party coverage, bad faith, intermediary and reinsurance disputes, as well as clients in complex commercial and personal injury litigation. In addition, Zarillo serves as general counsel to a county municipal utilities authority and represents clients in the areas of New Jersey local and state government law, election law and regulation and public utility law.

A PROFESSIONAL AND COMMUNITY COMMITMENT

Courter Kobert & Cohen has earned a reputation as a premier law firm in New Jersey. Its dedication to public service includes participation in many community and professional organizations, as well as remaining active in pro bono services. Managing Partner Joel Kobert is past president of the New Jersey State Bar Association. The firm's government affairs and land use, planning and zoning departments have been involved in the preservation of the 800,000-acre New Jersey Highlands, and the effects the proposed Highlands Water Protection and Planning Act will have on the municipalities and residents within the Highlands area.
